Instructions and Usage:

This form should be used by congregations, mission centers, and other church groups when photographs, video, sound recording, or any other means of gathering and depicting images or voices of persons participating in church activities are used, especially for minors. This form specifically states that the church may use the content only for official church resources. The Office of General Counsel recommends that when possible, congregational leaders maintain these records for every person who attends the congregation. This will allow the church to produce content for church publications such as the Herald and website, without needing to obtain a specific release for every instance of publication. The congregational recorder will also be able to submit photographs of church participants for archival in the church historic records.

The participant who will be depicted in the content should sign the form, and if the participant is under age is under 18 (19 in Alabama, Alaska, Wyoming and Nebraska, 21 in Pennsylvania, Puerto Rico, Mississippi and Colorado), a parent or guardian of the participant should sign the form as well. Forms should be maintained in the congregation's files for each participant.
